Key Insights

- Sales up +6.1% MoM driven by POS (+7.7%); website nearly flat (-0.3%).
- Brand retention at 95% — only 1 brand churned (Theburgerlab) vs 6 in Feb.
- Sallah (Mar 20) was the holiday driver — #2 day of the month at ■19.7M.
- Mother's Day & IWD did NOT spike — both came in below the daily average.
- 3 new brands joined: Midnight City, Roasty Smokey, Chocos Bistro.

Why sales grew

POS volume continued its upward trajectory and the Sallah holiday lifted Friday Mar 20 to one of the strongest days of the month. An extra trading day vs February also contributed (~3.6% baseline lift).

Why service charge dipped

Total orders rose, but a higher mix of POS orders (which carry lower service-charge weighting) and a small drop in average ticket size in the low-fee tiers pulled service-charge revenue down -2.2%.

Sallah / Eid al-Fitr	Mar 20 (Fri)	1,250	■19.7M	+20.0%
International Women's Day	Mar 8 (Sat)	1,061	■16.4M	-0.1%
Mother's Day	Mar 15 (Sat)	975	■15.0M	-8.3%

What this tells us

Sallah was the only true holiday driver in March — IWD landed at average and Mother's Day actually came in below the daily mean. Unlike Valentine's in February, March's calendar holidays did not lift orders. The growth this month came from underlying weekday volume, not from special-day spikes.

SUMMARY & ACTIONS

March 2026 — wins, concerns, recommendations

■ Wins

- Sales +6.1% MoM driven by POS strength (+7.7%)
- Brand retention 95% — only 1 churn vs 6 in February
- 3 new brands onboarded (Midnight City best newcomer)
- Order issue rate down to 0.19–0.37%/wk (vs Feb peak of 0.74%)
- Sallah holiday lift — Mar 20 #2 day of the month
- Mr. Krums Ltd top mover with strong double-digit growth

■ Areas of Concern

- Website channel flat (-0.3%) — all growth from POS
- Service charge -2.2% despite higher order volume
- Top 3 concentration ~83% of revenue — high dependency risk
- Mother's Day & IWD did NOT spike like Valentine's did in Feb
- One Top-10 brand declined double digits MoM
- Wednesday remains the weakest weekday — persistent gap

Recommended Actions

Priority Actions for April

1. Investigate website stagnation — POS is doing all the work. Run a UX audit and review website-only promo levers for April.
2. Mid-week activation push — Wednesday is consistently weakest. Test a Wednesday-only voucher with 2-3 brands.
3. Diversify top of brand mix — top 3 concentration remains ~83%. Identify 2 mid-tier brands to grow into the top 5.
4. Replicate Sallah playbook for Easter — Sallah delivered the only real holiday spike this month. Pre-plan menus & comms for Easter weekend.
5. Service-charge audit — orders are up but service charge is down. Verify mix shift assumption and check fee schedule for any leakage.
